THE PLANETARY PROGRAM

August brings several major long-term transit changes.

Since April 7 the Nodes of the Moon have been in gates 43 and 23, activating the channel of Individuality. For so many, this transit has been an opportunity for insights and a vehicle for expression. The Nodes will shift on August 18: the North Node in Scorpio to gate 1, the Creative, and the South Node in Taurus to gate 2, the Receptive.

This type of Node shift can be frustrating to those who have undefined Throat centers in their Design. The advantage and easy availability of expression can, once "lost," lead to frustration and inner turmoil. People are always making up reasons for what they do not understand. The planetary window for insight is over and now it is time to begin the process of digestion.

The Nodes will shift into the core of the G center, the Self. The G is where the Magnetic Monopole sits. The Magnetic Monopole has a dual function. As a magnet, it only attracts – it holds us together, initiating our separateness and our collective nature. It is also responsible for connecting us to our individual geometry. In design, where you are is who you are. With the Nodes in the axis of the gates 1 and 2 and with Pluto in gate 14, Possession in Great Measure, it is a time for new direction.

The month of August has a profound potential. Both Uranus and Neptune have been in a long transit of gate 61, Inner Truth, gate of mysteries. For the entire month, Neptune will be

THE CENTERS I
G – THE SELF

The self is silent. It is a passive principle. When connected via definition to other centers, it can then manifest. There are two kinds of human beings: those with a defined self, and those with an undefined self. Neither is an advantage or disadvantage compared to the other. It is the quality of awareness, not the design, that determines the spirit.

People with defined G centers are fixed in that form of expression of the self. They can trust it, always have access to it, but they will not know well or trust the other possible expressions of the self that are not defined. In other words, when the self is defined, the individual is focused on this expression, to the exclusion of other possibilities.

People with undefined G centers are open to a lifetime of experiencing all the possibilities of the self. No single expression is a focus. All are possible. Such people are different with different people. Their undefined self is always mirroring the self of their companions. There is no single self to find, only the possibilities of a lifetime to capture the whole experience. When people with undefined G centers can recognize that they are mirrors of the selves they meet, they will no longer suffer from a retrograde in the first line, Occult knowledge, where it is exalted. This transit began on July 25 and ends on September 7.

Saturn will spend the month in gate 37, Family, the gate of friendship.

Jupiter and Shoemaker-Levy 9 and Design

The power of the impacts on Jupiter by the fragmented comet astonished scientists. In the last newsletter, it was mentioned that at the time of the collisions, Jupiter, transiting Scorpio, was in gate 28, line four, keeping one's grip. The 28 is the gate of risk-taking, part of the channel of Struggle. Jupiter's challenge and the comets' effects will be experienced over time here on Earth.

Jupiter will leave gate 28 on August 16 for gate 44, Coming to Meet, gate of alertness and instincts, until September 21, when it moves on to gate 1, the Creative, self-expression.

By October 19, when Jupiter transits into the Ajna center, gate 43, Breakthrough, gate of insight, the effects will begin to crystallize in our mental awareness.

sense of non-identity or vulnerability, but transform into sensors who can recognize the quality of the self in others through their own sensitivity.

Remember, to love yourself requires allies, those who accept you as you are, those who allow you to be you. If your self is undefined, only those people in your aura who give you a healthy sense of self are truly for you. If you feel uncomfortable about yourself in somebody's company, recognize it is their self you are experiencing. They are not for you.
