The Planetary Program December–January

Illustration from the "Rave Body Graph Atlas"

The Wheel

The eight gates of the G center form two crosses in the zodiac. These four oppositions mark the seasons and their interregnums. They encompass all twelve signs of the zodiac and each of the eight gates is the first hexagram of one of the eight houses of the I'Ching.

The Sun, in its course through all 64 hexagrams during the year, opens one of these gates of the self every one-and-a-half months. The Earth, always opposite the Sun, is in the G center at the same time. On December 21, at Winter Solstice, the Sun is in gate 10, Treading, the behavior of the self, and Earth opposite in gate 15, Modesty, the rhythm of the self.

December starts out with all planets in direct motion and the Nodes of the Moon retrograde. The North Node is in gate 1, line 2, Love is Light, and the South Node in gate 2, line 2, Genius. The South Node and Pluto in 14 still define the Keeper of Keys channel.

In November, Jupiter joined Pluto in 14 and will remain in the Sacral center for a full year. On December 14 it moves into 34, The Power of the Great. At Winter Solstice, when the Sun is in 10, this forms the definition of Following One's Convictions, fueling sacral energy to the self, like the Keeper of Keys.

Winter is a time for Root energy, as all the gates of the Root center get activated by Sun, Earth, or Mercury.

New Year marks a dramatic change in the planetary program, with most planets changing gates or at least lines. The Keeper of Keys is gone when the South Node moves into gate 24, Returning, now forming definition with Neptune and Uranus in gate 61, until the last week of February. This mental definition of Awareness, the need to know, will look for the bridge to the Throat for expression.

With the North Node in gate 44, the channel of Surrender is defined mid-January when Venus goes into gate 26. On January 28, the Ego circuit gets a boost when 19–49, the channel of Synthesis, is defined by the Sun in 19 and Mercury in 49. This day the planets define all three centers of awareness and the Heart in a triple-split definition.

Pluto leaves gate 14 for a couple of months and goes into gate 34, The Power of the Great, on January 22.

On January 16, after more than a year in gate 61, Inner Truth, Uranus will move into gate 60, Limitation, the fuel of mutation, still providing pressure in the Knowing circuit.

Saturn remains in 37, Family, for both months, bringing the patriarch and rules to community.
