1995 Analyst Trainings

This coming October, Ra will be in Taos to give the Advanced training in the Human Design System. The course focuses on the circuits and their significance, transits and human relationships and interactions. For anyone who wants to deepen their understanding of the mechanics, have a chance to learn from Ra directly, or for those wishing to practice Human Design professionally, this course is a must.

As Ra's schedule is getting more and more packed, the opportunity to study with him in the United States is one to take advantage of. As the person who received the system and as the original teacher, he has been deeply immersed in the mechanics and mysteries for nearly nine years and has a great wealth of information to share.

Following the Advanced training, Ra will then give the Professional training. Since there is already a large body of information available, but not the time during the six day Advanced training, the Professional course is focused on the mechanics of Human Design Analysis, the centers, dynamics of couple and group composites and also provides analysts

The Planetary Program in August

Since July 13 and until November 10, the channel of Mutation, energy which fluctuates and initiates, pulse, is defined by Uranus in gate 60 and the South Node in gate 3.

Gate 60, Limitation, is a cusp hexagram Capricorn–Aquarius, located in the Root center and in the pulse energy format of the Knowing circuit. Its keynote is "The acceptance of limitation is the first step in transcendence." Uranus activates it since January and until February 1996. Currently it moves retrograde through line 2, Decisiveness, and will turn direct on October 3, while in line 1, Acceptance. Read the Rave l'Ching. Uranus really takes its time to leave deep impressions.

Harmonic gate 3, Difficulty at the Beginning, squaring gate 60, is a cusp hexagram Aries–Taurus in the Sacral center. Its keynote is ordering: "The fundamental challenge of initiation is to transcend confusion and establish order," showing that mutation starts with the individual's energy to accept limitation and apply order to overcome the difficulties in the

Uranus and Destiny

Mechanics of Mutation

When Uranus transits gate 60 once every 84 years, the Aquarian planet of revolution and change meets alternately South or North Node in gate 3, defining the channel of Mutation.

Every 168 years (two cycles of Uranus and nine cycles of the Nodes) it is the North Node in gate 3, with the South Node in gate 50. 84 years later, it is vice-versa. First, mutation and evolution and its ordering is where we are going, 84 years later it is where we are coming from. This pattern has repeated for at least the last 25 cycles of Uranus. We checked it back 2100 years, finding it every time.

This pattern of Destiny and Uranus defining the channel of Mutation is evolutionary conditioning happening every fourth generation. This is the clock of Uranus. Each revolution is an evolution.

The Nodes of the Moon are windows to the unconditioned stellar neutrino stream. They are not physical bodies and therefore do not influence the neutrino stream like planets. North and South Node are opposite each other in the zodiac and have a cycle of 18.6 years, an average of three and a half months per gate.

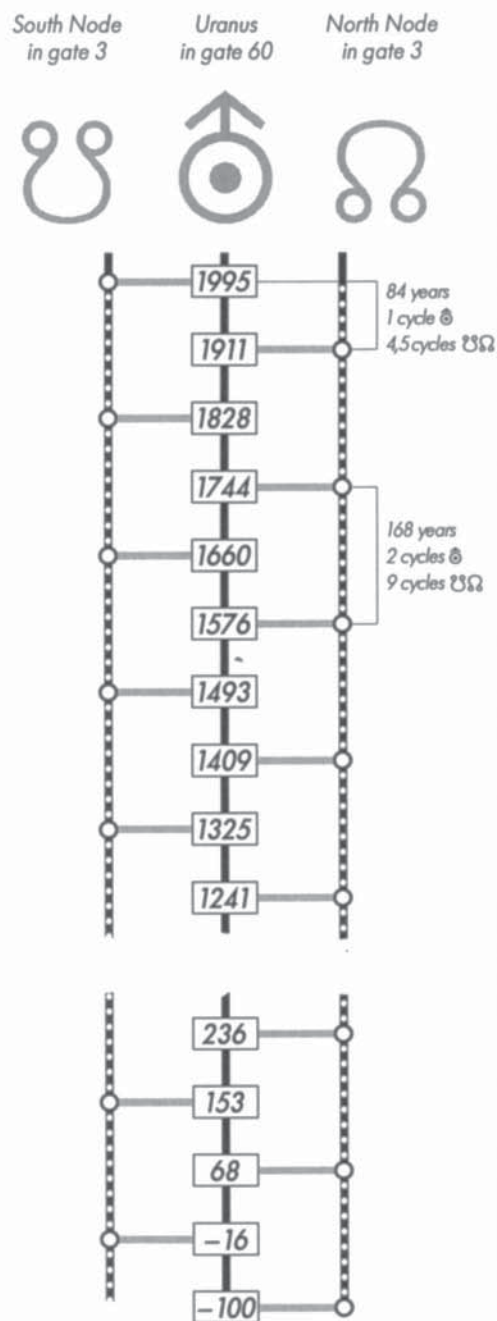

In an individual design the Nodes show the destiny. The South Node is where we come from and represents the first half of life. The North Node is where we are going in the second half of life.

Uranus has a special relation to the Nodes in a person's design. The Uranus opposition (its half cycle of approximately 42 years) marks the halfway point in life, when a person moves from the South Node, youth, to the North Node, adulthood and maturity.

Discovered in 1781, Uranus is one of the three transpersonal planets. It is associated with the properties relevant around the time of its discovery; revolution, change, electricity, and invention. It is ruled by Aquarius, the humanitarian. With its 84 year cycle, Uranus stays in a gate an average of a year and almost four months, having a strong impact.

Following its discovery, Uranus replaced Saturn as the timekeeper and the marker of the halfway point in a person's life. While Juliet was an adult at 14, we need 40 years to reach maturity and also now live much longer.

The Wheel

The wheel shows the planetary movement in August.

Sun and Earth in combination with the inner personal planets, Mercury and Venus (always remaining close to the Sun) define some channels for a short time this month, beginning in Leo with the Leo-Leo channel of Leadership (31-7, The Alpha) defined by Mercury and Venus. Then some days later, there is a short definition of channel 33-13, the Prodigal, the witness, by Earth in Aquarius gate 13 and Venus in Leo gate 33.

As the Sun moves into Virgo, it conjuncts Venus in gate 59 while Mercury is in 6, so the channel Mating is defined for five days. 40-37, Community, one of the three pairs of opposites that form channels, is defined at the end of the month by Virgo Sun and Pisces Earth.

Mars is in Libra now, transiting Spleen gates (see page 4, Health and Human Design).

D = Direct, R = Retrograde

Jupiter goes direct on August 2 while in gate 34, and returns to gate 9 mid-month, remaining in the gate of focus until October 6.

Saturn remains in the Solar Plexus retrograding from the gate of crisis, 36, into Grace, 22. The Earth spends most of the time in the Solar Plexus, too, and so every gate in the center of emotion gets activated this month. The Earth is where we get our grounding, Saturn is discipline and rules.

Grounding yourself by disciplining your emotions through awareness might be a useful guide. Because the Solar Plexus is an energy center as well as an awareness, it is common to act on the energy rather than being aware.

All three transpersonal planets are in the Knowing circuit while the energy format for Knowing is defined by destiny (South Node and Uranus, see page 2). Neptune is in gate 61, Inner Truth, so Mutation is conditioned by the pressure of inspiration to know and by Pluto in gate 14, power skills in the tantric channel of the Knowing circuit.

Health and Human Design

2. Mars in the Spleen

For the theme of health, Mars has its own significance. It stands for aggression, a word derived from the Latin aggredere, striding ahead. Mars is the sword of war, but also the plow opening and preparing the soil after Winter to receive the new seed. It is a hard, violent force, iron hardened in fire.

The equivalents in the human immune system are inflammations, fevers and their treatment. Fever is the forge for the weapons of the immune system, and ideally, this arsenal is helping the body by destruction. Aggression in this sense is therefore good for health, but is easily overdone and so becomes destruction. This is Mars' danger: it fixes 120 aspects of the lines in the Human Design System, 93 of them in detriment. As it easily overshoots its target, it becomes destructive.

As mentioned in the last issue, the Nodes of the Moon emphasize the axis immunity-vitality this year: Every chart drawn in the period between mid-July and mid-October will have the two definitions 60-3, Mutation, and 50-27, Preservation. At the same time, from the end of July to the end of September, Mars moves through the entire immune system, the gates of the Spleen.

The theme of this time is therefore sudden changes (60-3) in values (50-27), in taking care of yourself (inside) and taking care of others (outside), while at the same time Mars is challenging every single aspect of the immune system, aggressively or destructively. Here Mars is the plow, ripping open the soil to prepare it for the seed.

Of course, as always, your individual design will determine how you will experience Mars' powers in this time. You can support your body with a sufficient and balanced supply of minerals, unsaturated fats (e.g. flax-oil) and unrefined sugars.

For genetics, this time has another significance. We will talk about it next time.

beginning. Mutation is constantly trying all over again, eliminating failure. If successful it transforms the collective. The process as such is not subject of awareness, but the neighboring centers of awareness illustrate their potential contributions to mutation: from the Spleen, based on the experience of individual life struggle (38-28), the fear of dying (and losing joy of life) (58-18), therefore the ambition to establish duration (54-32), the instinctive mutation for the protection and benefit of the tribe - values, rules, caring and nurturing (27-50); and from the Solar plexus, pressured by the need to be accepted by the tribe (19-49), the individual challenge to find the right spirit (39-55), recognize other people's feelings by holding back your own (41-31), the emotional process of mutation through intimacy, fertility and reproduction (59-6).

As Ra writes in the August European Human Design Newsletter: "Mutation in terms of Design represents the potential empowerment of directional change. The direction of this mutative energy is the 50th gate, the Cauldron, the splenic awareness of the Defense circuit, the circuit of our sexuality. It is the gate of values, rules, the tribal law giver. ... It is important not to jump to the conclusion that some vast change is about to take place. Relax. The stimulus is to change the direction of the law, the manifestation is another story. ... The most profound pressure will be on the 27th gate, Nourishment, the gate of caring. It is what the tribe cares about that can mutate into a change in the direction of the law. Uranus is a key. Gate 60 can be chronically depressive unless it can accept limitations."

When Uranus was last in gate 60, 1911, the North Node (where we are going) was in gate 3, also thereby defining the channel of Mutation. At this time, the South Node in 50, gate of values, was where we were coming from. This period in history marked the end of the Victorian values that had ruled the life up until then. This definition preceded World War I and the beginnings of our consciousness of the world as global.

Where we are coming from (South Node now activated) during the last 84 years, atomic power, space travel, global communications, orders our evolution both on a personal level and collectively.

Though its effects will last throughout the next 84 years, the root of this manifestation is happening now. And all children born in the next eight months will be conditioning everyone around them with this channel (either consciously or unconsciously or both), so the pressure to evolve, though it takes time, will continue well into the next millennium through them.

The North and South Nodes are opposites, so while the South Node is in 3, the North Node is in gate 50, a Splenic awareness gate of values. This is where we are going (North Node). What we care about and what nourishes us (gate 27) is going to determine the direction of the mutation.
