- The Design of Human Sexuality, part 1

Another crucial and valuable piece has been added to our expanding library of Ra's classes on CD.

The reproductive aspect of the Design of human sexuality is found in the gates and lines of the Solar Plexus center and their harmonic gates and lines in the Sacral, Root and Throat centers. It is described with its own set of keynotes.

In this class, Ra presents the roles of gate 59 and the waves of gate 6 and how they generate the genetic strategies for reproduction found in the three streams of the Solar Plexus center: tribal, individual and collective sexuality.

The class was given in October 1997 in Taos, New Mexico. It is now available on six audio CDs, including an eight-page booklet.
