-- April Workshops in Taos

1. Professional Applications: April 2-4, April 6-8

This course shifts the emphasis toward the energetic application of design through observation of self and others. Integrate this knowledge into your personal life or use it to enhance your understanding in your professional capacity.

This course is for those who want to consciously and deeply discuss the means by which to recognize and apply the information from one's life, people and transits.

$650

Early registration discount until March 12.

This class requires an advanced study.

2. Workshop for Practitioners: April 18-22 (note date change)

A discussion group aimed at deconstructing what one knows through their own testing of premises, and to find a means by which design can be made more available for people who are using it in practice.

$320

Accommodations in Taos provided when requested by April 4.
